

Simplifying Medical Management Solutions for Healthcare Providers

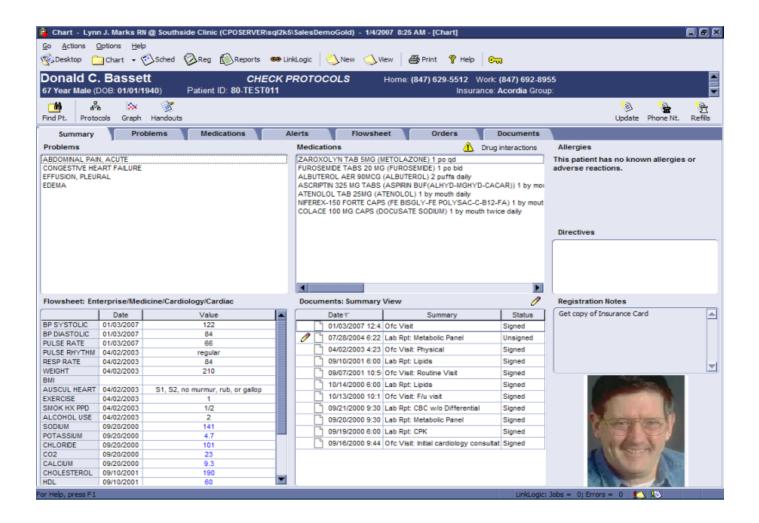

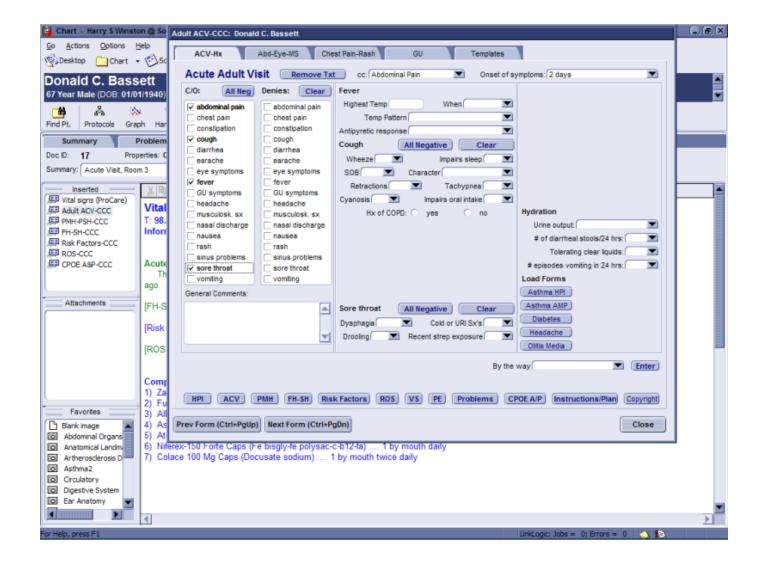

Centricity® Practice Solution is a completely integrated clinical and financial management solution that helps you take care of the whole patient, from first visit to final reimbursement and every point in between. The patient centered design provides a portal which acts as the hub for your practices information. Launch points link to all of your critical practice functions including; charts, scheduling, patient information, A/R and collections, EDI Management, and Reports.

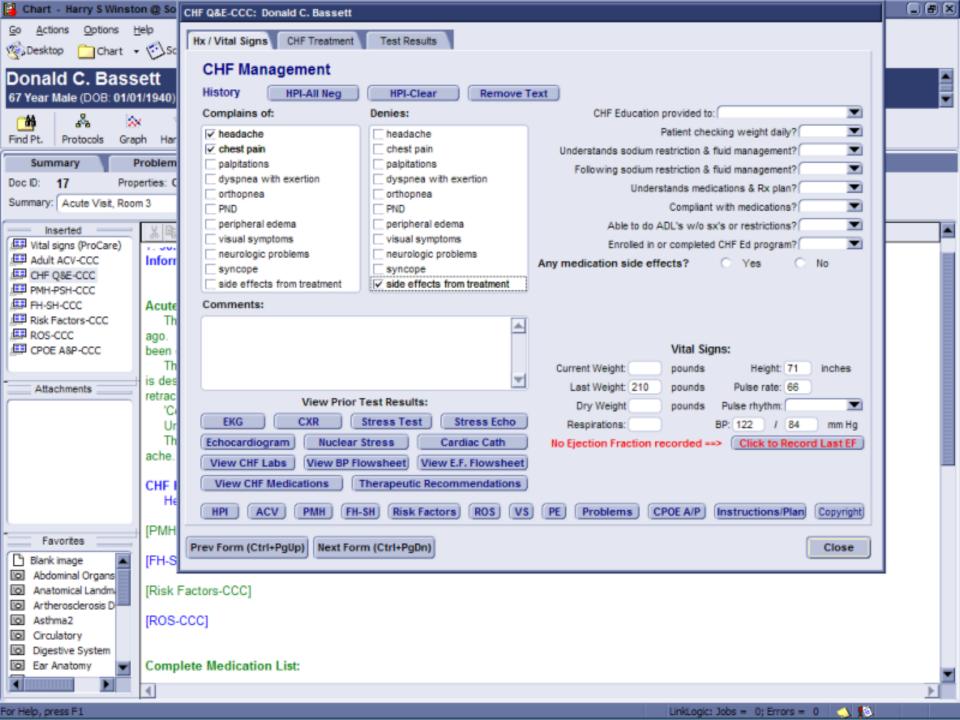

When a member of the clinical staff first opens the application, they are presented with an overview of outstanding items. On the left is their schedule for the day, on the right, messages and patient chart updates.

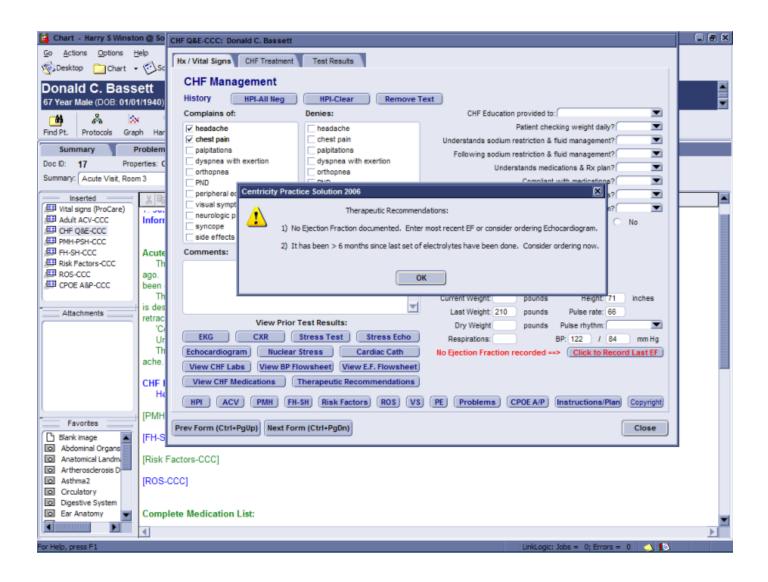

When evaluating a patient's chart, the physician is presented with a customized chart summary view. This snapshot view provides a photograph of the patient, a customized flowsheet, lists of chart documents, as well as problems, meds and allergies. From here the physician can again "drill down" into additional detail information.

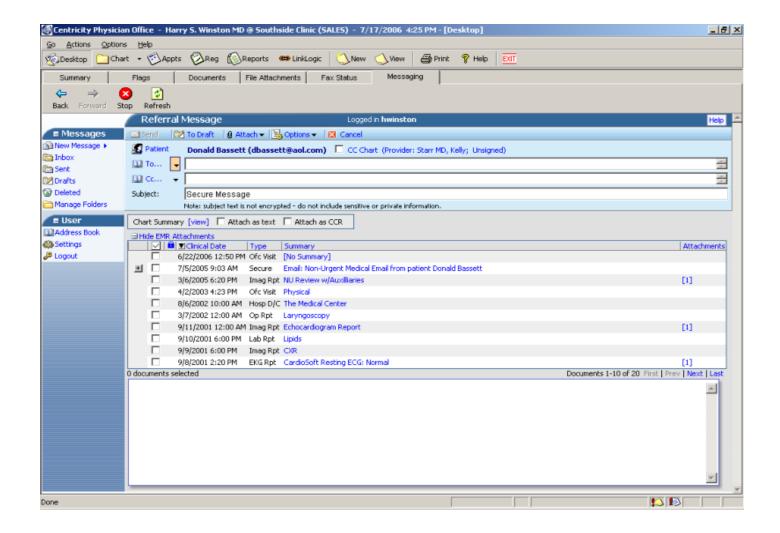

The systems accommodates point and click, voice recognition, voice navigation, macros, and the obvious one, typing. We know physicians need flexibility in this area, Centricity provides many options to adapt to individual styles.

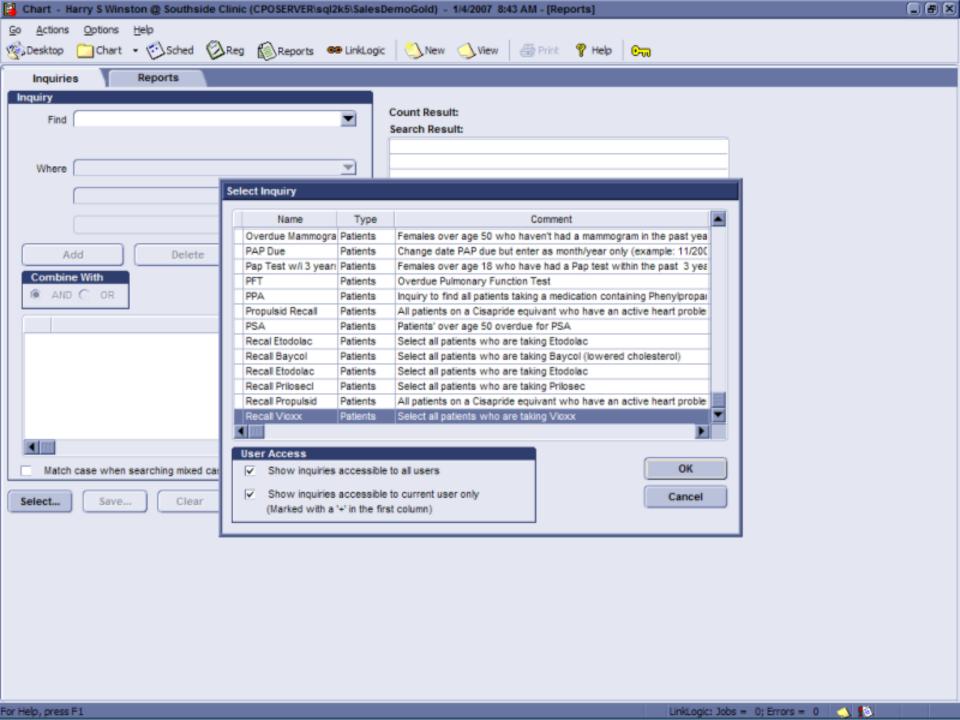

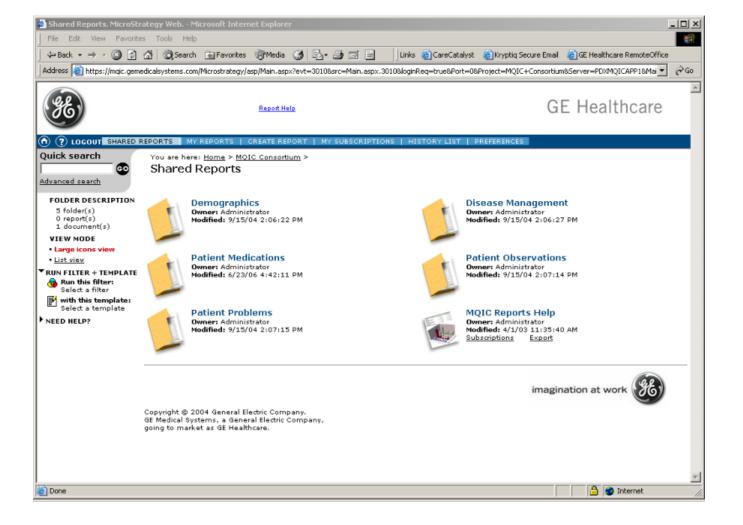

Utilizing this evidenced based content, physicians are alerted to therapeutic recommendations based upon this patient's current chart information.

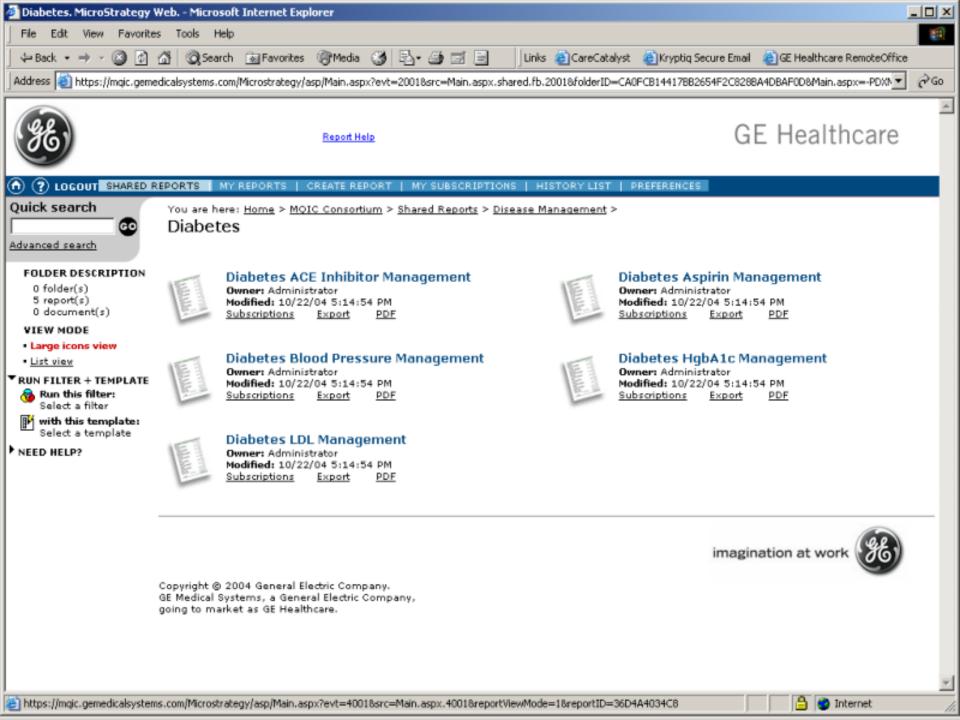

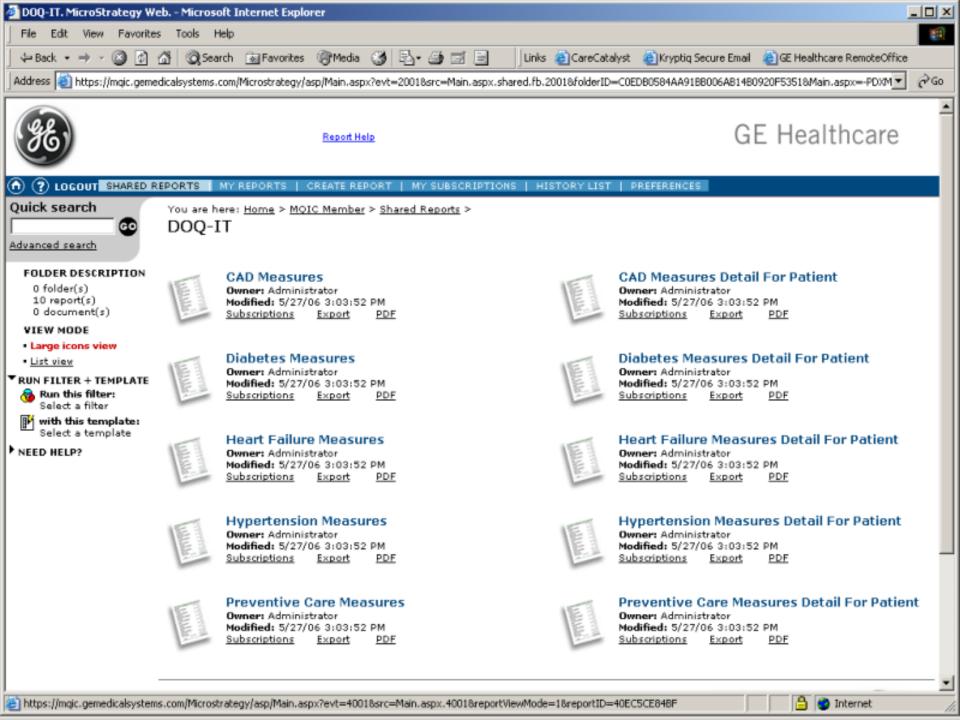

While the office staff is ensuring timely and accurate payment for the visit, the physician can follow up with custom letters which can be auto-faxed, or sent by secure email communication. Additional documents in the chart can also be selected and sent to other care providers or patients.

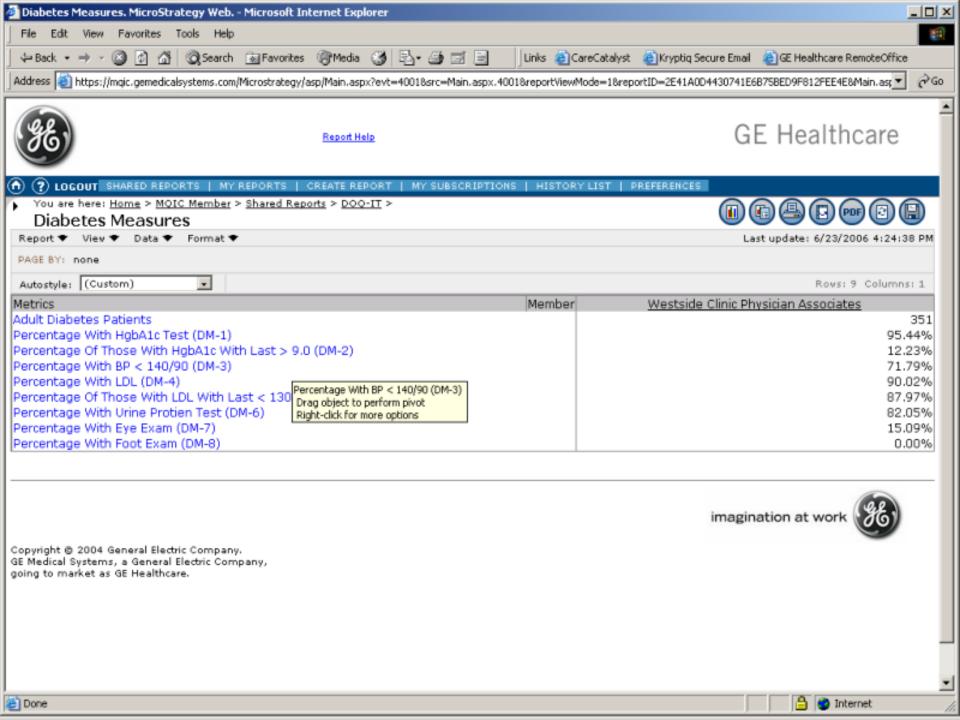

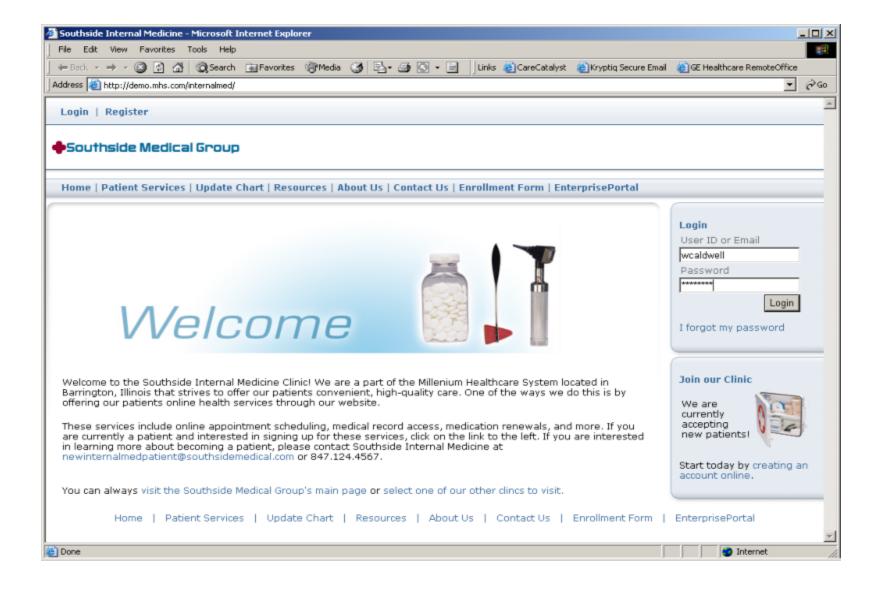

In addition to these instant queries, Centricity users have the ability to benchmark data, not only inside their clinic walls, but across enterprises and even nationwide. Here we are viewing Centricity's Quality Outcomes reporting tool which allows for canned and ad-hoc reporting, on a clinic, enterprise, or national level.

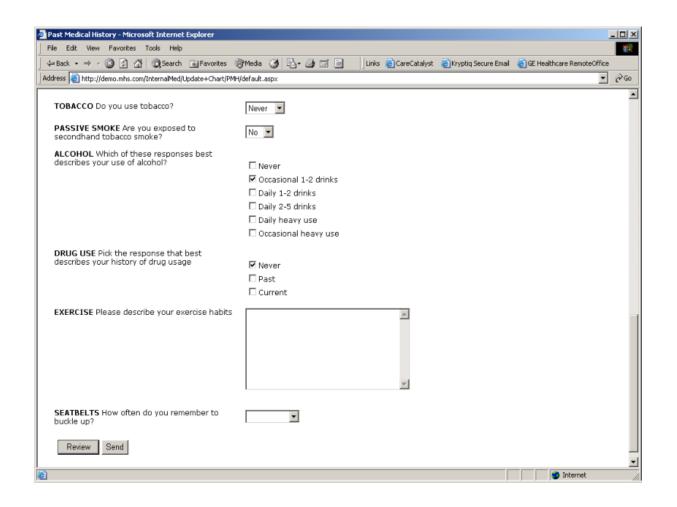

With Centricity Patient Portal, patients can access information and communicate with your office at their convenience.

Additionally, patients can fill out health questionnaires before they arrive in the office, saving critical input time. This information is brought into Centricity Practice Solution as discrete data elements.

GE is strategically focused on enabling healthcare professionals around the world to discover new ways to predict, diagnose and treat disease earlier. We call this model of care "Early Health".

Centricity Practice Solution is a powerful component of this model which provides robust financial, clinical, and administrative capabilities that accelerate the revenue cycle while connecting patients to caregivers more quickly, efficiently and reliably.
